

Structural Engineers Association of Colorado Young Member Group

Hilti Denver Anchor Conference
Renaissance Denver Hotel, Denver, CO
May 3, 2017

SEAC YMG assisted Hilti in promoting the Denver Anchor Conference. Approximately 65 people attended this event, including 10 young members. This event was geared toward engineers, contractors, and inspectors, to bring a new perspective of combining code, education, and hands on training. It was a half day educational event with hands-on learning opportunities for attendee's. The conference presented code changes for adhesive anchors before hands-on sessions allowed attendees to install various adhesive anchors. The program emphasized the importance of proper installer and inspector training by showing how improper field installation reduces load capacities. This was a great opportunity for engineers to gain first hand experience in anchor installation, which will aid in the development of more workable details.

YMG Contact: Jeremy Crandall/Katie Courtright yeg.seac@gmail.com