

Minnesota Structural Engineers Association Young Member Group

Allianz Field Construction Tour

St. Paul, MN

June 20, 2018

MNSEA YMG teamed up with ASCE YMG for a tour of Allianz Field, the future home of Minnesota's own soccer team, MN United. A representative from Mortenson Construction (GC) and Walter P. Moore (SER) guided the group on a tour of the new stadium. The group was fascinated by the fabric structure stretched around the exterior of the building. This event was a great opportunity for young structural engineers to network with other young structural engineers from different firms. Also, by inviting our ASCE friends, the structural engineering crowd was able to further expand its network in the build industry. The specialty foundation systems and steel frame systems were incredible!

A happy hour at a local brewery followed the tour. YMG members had the opportunity to share work stories and talk about current events. It was determined that although structural engineering is fun, sharing beers with a friend is an even better way to spend the evening. The vote was unanimous. Fun was had by all!
